BLUEBIRD WHITE CITY

Housed in the vibrant Television Centre and just a stone's-throw from the BBC building, this Bluebird serves up tasty and modern British cuisine with flavour being the prime focus. A suntrap in the summer and warm and cosy in the cooler months, the heated outdoor terrace, is just the perfect spot for a lunch after shopping or for a warm (or chilled!) cocktail after work.

Taking the stylish and familiar charm of the café at the original Bluebird – a Chelsea landmark on the Kings Road for 20 years – this sister restaurant brings a chic and stylish dining experience to White City.
